A Message From the President

Fall is in the air! As the temperatures begin to fall, so do the leaves. I've always enjoyed what fall means; sweatshirts are dug out from the depths of closets, you can watch a football game five days a week, and the coffee just tastes better - especially if it's in a thermos. And for many of us, the best part is that hunting season is now in full swing! As wildlife professionals, I'm sure most of us find something exciting about this amazing season in South Dakota.

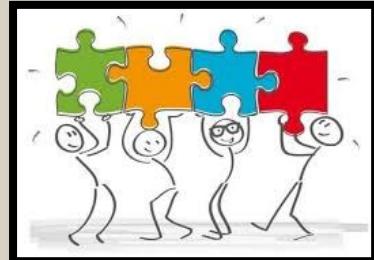

Our board had a busy and productive summer. We submitted letters of support on various issues relevant to wildlife management and conservation. This includes a letter requesting support for the Senate's version of the Recovering America's Wildlife Act (S. 3223). I would like to thank those committees and individuals that not only helped draft the letters, but gave constructive edits. We will continue to update any position statements or comment letters on our website. If you are interested in reviewing these documents, please visit our website (<http://wildlife.org/south-dakota-chapter/about/>), under the Policy Documents section.

We are still working on plans for our annual meeting, which, as mentioned in previous newsletters, will take place at Arrowwood Resort and Conference Center at Cedar Shores in Oacoma on February 27th - March 1st, 2019. Our President-elect, Eric Magedanz, is working with Arrowwood staff making arrangements for our meeting.

That said, I'm excited to unveil this years' theme: Together in Conservation. In natural resource terms, conservation is the preservation, protection, or restoration of the natural environment, natural ecosystems, vegetation, and wildlife. This definition implies teamwork and the theme is applicable to every member of our Chapter no matter what niche they fill in our profession. I'm excited to see what types of presentations this theme attracts. Eric will continue the preparation for our annual meeting by putting together an agenda. If you are interested in presenting at our annual meeting, please contact Eric (emagedanz@pheasantsforever.org) or keep an eye out for the call for abstracts in the near future.

I'm fortunate enough to be representing our Chapter at the Annual TWS Conference on October 7-11th. This year the conference is being held in Cleveland, Ohio. Attending this meeting will provide me with the opportunity to network with other wildlife professionals and learn more about the profession in other areas of the nation. My involvement in SD TWS affords me this opportunity to attend. I encourage you to begin thinking about getting more involved in SD TWS as our annual meeting date approaches. I invite our members to look into filling the current vacancies for standing and special committees. Please visit our website for a description of each special/standing committee to see if you may be interested (<http://wildlife.org/south-dakota-chapter/leadership-governance/>). Our Chapter will also be holding elections this upcoming year for our Secretary/Treasurer, President-Elect, and Board member positions. Please contact myself or another member of our board if you or anyone you know may be interested in any of these positions.

I hope everyone reading this will take the opportunity to get outdoors this fall and enjoy all that South Dakota has to offer. We are definitely lucky to live in a state that has such a wide array of outdoor recreational activities. Don't forget to bring your cameras! It's a great way to document memories, and provide an entry for our annual photo contest.

Notes from Dennie

Mary Ann and I just returned from Rocky Mountain National Park photographing elk, deer, and other wildlife. We were photographing elk at the peak of the rut and as usual the peak of visitor use in the park. We had elk everywhere from 8000-11000 feet in elevation, it was in the 80's during the day and only down to 55 at night so really warm weather at that elevation.

The elk and deer were active in the morning and as you would expect late afternoon. We spend time at 11K-12K trying to find Pika's but they eluded our lenses again, maybe next year! While we were hunting elk with camera gear our son Dennis drew his first archery elk tag in South Dakota after 18 years of applying. He harvested his elk the morning after we returned.

The North American Model of Conservation has created wildlife opportunity for both hunting and viewing. Enjoy the outdoor opportunities this great country has to offer.

Thanks Again

DennieMann

Wildlife Disease Committee Report

Recovering America's Wildlife Act: Our Chapter sent letters to our U.S. senators asking for their support for Senate Bill 3223, Recovering America's Wildlife Act. This bill would establish funding to provide for the needs of all fish and wildlife species and native habitats; specifically to assist state wildlife agencies in implementing State Wildlife Action Plans. We also asked Senators Thune and Rounds to help improve the Senate version to assure that the bill provides dedicated funding, as is true of the U.S. House version. The Senate version was introduced to provide only annual funding. We have not yet received a response from either senator.

The House version of Recovering America's Wildlife Act (HR 4647) currently has 104 cosponsors. Unfortunately, Representative Noem is not among the cosponsors.

Second Atlas of Breeding Birds of South Dakota Book: SD Game, Fish and Parks recently released this book for sale. You can purchase a copy for $35 by calling 605-223-7662. The online interactive website for the project is available here: <https://gfp.sd.gov/breeding-bird-atlas/>

SD Monarch Conservation and Management Strategic Plan: SDGFP and partners recently completed a draft strategic plan to address the needs of the monarch butterfly, which is being considered for listing under the authority of the federal Endangered Species Act. The draft is available for public review and comment until October 26. Following comment review and incorporation of needed changes, the final version will be presented to the SDGFP Commission at their November meeting. The draft plan is available here: <https://gfp.sd.gov/userdocs/docs/2018monarchplan.pdf>

Assistance to TWS re: responses to U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service proposals: I reviewed and provided input on proposals dealing with listing species and designating critical habitat, revision of regulations for prohibitions to threatened wildlife and plants, and interagency cooperation. The submitted letters are accessible in the most recent Conservation Affairs Network newsletter: http://wildlife.org/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/TWS_CAN_Newsletter_4.10_OCTOBER2018.pdf

TWS Student Development Working Group

Greeting Students,

Have you ever heard of the Student Development Working Group? We are a Working Group that promotes increased student awareness of TWS membership benefits, works to expand knowledge and technical capabilities of student members, and helps prepare student members for professional wildlife careers. The working group facilitates networking between students and experienced TWS members by hosting meetings, workshops, poster sessions, a mentoring program, and a student chapter leaders' breakfast. The working group also selects the recipient of The Wildlife Society's Student Chapter Advisor of the Year Award.

Our working group features the latest student's news in The Student Chronicles. We actively post on our TWS Student Development Working Group Facebook page. We delivery new topics, current student research and professional skill building.

We look forward to being the voice for students to the Parent Society of The Wildlife Society. We are always here to welcome new student members. We look forward to helping and providing for the next generation of the wildlife profession!

If you have any questions about the Student Development Working Group please contact Chair Kristi Confortin at kaconfortin@bsu.edu.
